Our greatest concern is the well being of your pet. We will perform a physical examination before administering anesthesia and EKG heart monitoring will be performed. IV fluids will be given during surgery to help maintain blood pressure and allow rapid drug administration should an emergency situation develop. A CBC and Surgery Profile, preanesthetic lab work to detect disorders of the kidney, anemia and diabetes, will be done before your pet receives anesthesia. Recovery is faster and better in the animals that are kept pain-free. Pain medication will be administered according to your pets needs.

Please consider having the following procedure performed while your pet is under anesthetic.

MICROCHIP IDENTIFICATION

I would like for my pet to be microchipped today while under anesthetic. This is a permanent, lifelong identification for my pet. My pet can be identified for life, even without a collar. ($60.31).
